

Our Core Christian Values:

Love 	Courage 	Hope
What makes love a distinctively Christian value? Christians recognise that God is love. The Bible teaches us to love God and love each other and tells that God's love is unconditional. Throughout his life, Jesus showed us this unconditional love for others. Love is a core value for us as it underpins everything we do.	What makes courage a distinctively Christian value? God asks us to be brave when we face difficulties. The Bible tells us to stand against injustice and to be the best we can be when things are difficult. Courage is a core value for us because it reminds us to stand by our beliefs and are committed to what is right and true.	What makes hope a distinctively Christian value? Christian hope is rooted in God's love for us. The Bible shows us how Jesus gave hope to others throughout his life. Our faith means that we can trust that, whatever situation we are in, all is not lost because of God's promise to us. Hope is core value for us because it helps us keep going, even when things are hard and we face new challenges.
